entainly a very worthy document, and if paying customers, as it ought to, we shall be truly glad. Mr. STEARNS commenced as a little mud cabin in the rear of the bailding since erected and known as the larged his business, and, finally, his sales. room, until, at the present time, his fine eree-story brick front looks as well as erestablishment on Massachusetts street, ed his place of trade is second to none for the traffic in which he is engaged .-With a fine, well ventilated basement, and rellent rooms on three floors above, the eaders Can readily understand the difference between his present surroundings, ad those of '55. His stock, instead of being limited to twenty or thirty dollars in value, is now said to amount to several thousands, and is constantly increasing with the demands of trade. It is universally conceded that Mr. S. is a very correct and efficient business man: that he sions, and, at the present time, a general variety of dry goods, &c. All these he is selling lower than the market will justify; but he is determined to keep up with the times, though he should fail. The only complaint with our friend is, he is a little shaky on politics; but as he does not offer these for sale, giving most of his time to selling goods, we are sure the thousands who visit Lawrence from the distant parts of the Territory, will call upon him, and some of them will be sure and replenish their larder or wardrobe from his extensive stock.

OF It has been asserted, time and time again, that FREDBRICK BROWN, a son of Old John Brown, was shot in the highway, while on his way to Osawatomie, by Martin White. Will the latter or some other person acquainted with the details of the case, furnish us the particulars for publication? It has also been represented that Mr. W. was a Free State man .-We have one statement of this affair, sus tained by the affidavit of a person, a Free State man, who was with FREDERICK Brown at the time he was slain. It does not agree with the statements made by the letter-writers at the time, and those which have copied from them since. We desire the whole truth without any dodging, and we trust it will be forth-

A Partisan Dodge. The Lawrence Republican, edited by S. O. Thacher, the Republican candidate for Judge, announces James Christian as the Democratic candidate for judge in opposition to himself. The election returns are coming forward very fast. The counties bordering on Missouri, as far as heard from, have all gone Democratic, as have some of the interior counties.
